Waste authority lowering rates in fall

Glades area residents and commercial waste haulers will see a decrease in the tipping fees charged by the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority at local facilities starting in October.

The Glades area Budget and Policy Advisory Committee approved the proposed reduction at a meeting Monday night, August 15 in Belle Glade City Hall.

The price to dump a ton of garbage at the Belle Glade transfer station or the Pahokee landfill will drop from $20.50 to $14. The trash rate will be halved. Those who dump trash at the authority operated sites are paying $21 per ton but will soon be paying $10.50 per ton.

According to Timothy F. Hunt, Jr., the authority's executive director, the reductions are possible because of a $46 million bond issue the authority is floating.

The bonds are part of the authority's efforts to reorganize and construct a central waste disposal site.

Hunt had informed the board earlier this year that the bond issue could result in lower rates for the Glades because coastal operations would then have to have an impact on the Glades' operations.

Up to now, the operations have been run as separate entities. The bond issue requires the whole authority system to be operated as one entity.

Because of that, Hunt requested and received the committee's assent to renegotiate with contract users of the system since the new rates will create a discrepancy between the contract rates and the regular rates.

The county and bond agreement require the authority to adopt uniform rates.

One victim of the new rate schedule will be free dumping at the Pahokee landfill.

The bond issue prohibits free dumping so the authority will place a one dollar per load fee on waste hauled to the sites by private vehicles. Private vehicles are listed as "automobiles, pickups with no side boards, vans, utility trailers all measured at no more than one cubic yard."

Those loads can be dumped at Pahokee under the current rate schedule.

Hunt suggested the committee also look into the possibility of imposing higher fees for non-contract users of the authority's facilities.

South Bay, Belle Glade and the unincorporated areas of western Palm Beach County are all contract users.

Only Pahokee is a non-contract user in the western area of the county.

Other rates that will be imposed by the new rate schedule are $30 per 1,000 of septage sludge, which was billed at $24 per 1,000 gallons and $28 per ton of dewatered sludge.

The minimum charge has been dropped from $5 to $3.

There will also be a $2.75 per cubic yard charge for land clearing and demolition debris in roll-off containers.

H-2 report draws mixed reactions

By JEFF BROWN

A report on the H-2 labor program by a United States House of Representatives subcommittee has drawn mixed reactions from sugar industry and legal service officials.

"All I can say is I think it's significant and it's accurate," said George Carr, an attorney with Florida Rural Legal Services.

"It is full of error and it has a lot of conclusions in it that are based on conjecture and falsehood," said Dalton Yancey of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

The report issued by the Subcommittee on Labor Standards recommends the Secretary of Labor assume direct control of the H-2 program and that he also establish a task force to review the sugar industry's recruitment and labor practices.

The subcommittee's chairman visited the area and held a one-man - subcommittee meeting at Belle Glade's Lake Shore Civic Center April 11.

The report states that the subcommittee bases its findings and recommendations partly on that hearing.

"The subcommittee's recommendations are directed to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Labor. Based on its findings concerning the USDL's administration of the foreign guestworker program for sugar cane, the subcommittee calls upon the Secretary of Labor and high ranking Department Officials in Washington to assume overall responsibility for that program," the report states.

The report alleges the department's attitude towards "improving the employment opportunities of domestic workers in sugar cane to be one of near indifference, apathy and disdain."

The subcommittee report claims the department had delegated "substantial responsibility for the administration of the H-2 program" to the regional office in Atlanta, Georgia, and that the regional office had assigned responsibility for the program to a single person.

"The Atlanta certification official entrusted with assuring that domestic workers are not discriminated against by the sugar cane industry has failed to interest himself in the personnel policies of the growers concerning their recruitment, training, productivity, firing and re-employment policies and practices," states the report. "To cite but one example, the certification official relied exclusively on information provided by the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association in determining whether individual domestic workers were being denied employment for lawful reasons."

A dissenting minority report issued by subcommittee members John N. Erlenborn, Thomas E. Petri and Ronald C. Packard stated the recommendation would put the Department of Labor in charge of cleaning its own house of alleged violations.

"Since the subcommittee has charged that the Department of Labor's attitude is 'one of near indifference, apathy and disdain,' it is difficult to conceive why the subcommittee is recommending that the department be the resolution of its own apathy," the minority report stated. "Rather, with the expertise gathered during a six-month investigation, we would expect the subcommittee to submit recommendations, in legislation or otherwise - other than a curtailment of H-2 labor - to encourage unemployed domestic workers to seek what amounts to temporary employment in Florida sugar cane. Combined with the liberty to criticize should go the responsibility for constructive improvement. This report reflects only the former."

The majority subcommittee report also recommended the Secretary of Labor appoint within 60 days a task force of department officials, sugar cane growers, legal services representatives and other appropriate persons to review allegations made by the committee.

"The review contemplated by the subcommittee should consider recruitment practices, the industry blacklist, worker training, production requirements and termination practices," states the subcommittee report.

The subcommittee alleged that several factors served as barriers to domestic workers who would want to work as sugar cane harvesters.

It contends the sugar industry's piece rate quota "discriminates against domestic workers with no prior to experience in cane cutting."

The report described a training period and a production test cane cutters are apparently required to undergo.

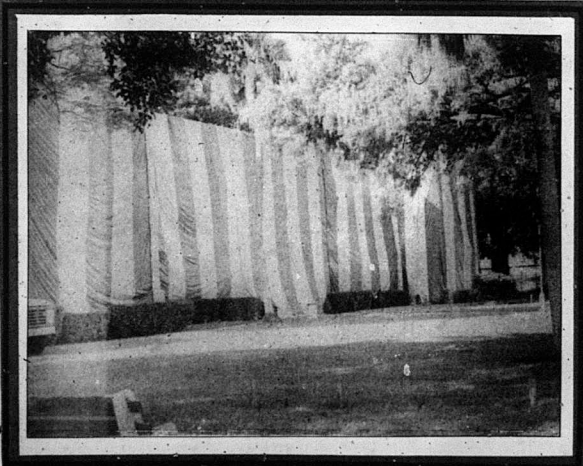

"That minimum productivity requirement in essence requires a worker to cut a ton of trimmed cane an hour," said the report. "An analysis performed by the subcommittee demonstrates that the majority of inexperienced domestic workers do not meet that test and are fired or quit for that reason within the first 11 days on the job."

The subcommittee accused the industry of refusing to utilize a resident work force of about 6,000 Haitian refugees in the Glades so it can import laborers from Jamaica instead.

The advantage of using foreign laborers is derived from their inability to organize.

"Foreign guestworkers who survive the rigors of a six-day a week, five-month harvest

Humston appointed chief

SOUTH BAY - South Bay has a new police chief, its third chief in less than two years.

Roy Humston, 50, who's been serving as interim chief since the April departure of Charles Forrest, took over as permanent police chief Tuesday night when the South Bay City Commissioners voted unanimously to appoint him to the position.

Humston has 25 years experience in law enforcement, including a year in South Bay. Ironically, his first anniversary with the local police department coincided with his appointment as chief.

His other experience includes seven years with the Dade County Sheriff's Department, seven years as a law enforcement officer in Colorado and a stint with the Department of Justice's Bureau of Immigration in Colorado.

He also served briefly as acting-chief of the Coconut Creek Police Department in Broward County.

The South Bay department has seven officers including Humston and a total of 16 employees.

City code revision delayed

SOUTH BAY - Proposed revisions to the South Bay building code will have to wait until a committee charged with reviewing the code and needed revisions come back from the drawing board.

The revisions were scheduled for adoption on first reading Tuesday night, August 16, but when several other revisions were determined to be needed, the South Bay City Commission decided to delay action until a special committee had drafted an ordinance that addressed all of them.

Seven people were appointed to the committee: Simon P. Mosely, Larue Tripp, Lawrence Roker, Richard Freeman, Byron Walker, Lomax Harrelle and City Attorney James Gann.

The commission decided two weeks ago to ask Gann to include a change in the proposed ordinance that would decrease the required square feet of floor space in multi-family dwellings from 960 square feet per unit to 750 square feet per unit.

Gann made the changes but pointed out that

Miller muddies clear waters

The United States House of Representative's subcommittee on labor standards' recent investigation of the H-2 program that brings West Indian workers to the Glades to harvest the annual sugar crop seems to have snowed some issues.

George Miller, the congressman who chairs the committee, is apparently trying to brand the H-2 program as exploitative and grossly unfair to those in the program.

He is also trying to brand the sugar industry as exploitative and grossly unfair to the foreign workers in the program and the domestic workers it allegedly tries to keep out of the cane harvesting jobs.

We can't figure that out. If the sugar industry is exploiting the foreign workers and treating them unfairly, why are so many of these workers returning to Florida year after year to take the jobs? You'd think that once would be enough. Then they'd learn their lessons and not return.

Or maybe, if the industry is exploiting and treating the foreigners unfairly, the domestic work force has gotten wind of it and is staying out of the positions by its own choosing.

Would you take a job if you knew the people who had those jobs now are being exploited and treated unfairly? Of course not!

Miller, who chaired a one-subcommittee-member subcommittee hearing in Belle Glade in April, and mysteriously had several 11- and 12-page statements typed up, duplicated and distributed at that hearing, after having taken those statements just a couple hours earlier that very morning, is apparently working on a very different wave-length than the rest of us.

He can see things we cannot. His fascinating mind can make connections that the rest of us would never know exist unless he was around to point them out.

The West Indies cane cutters come here every year to harvest the crop! The cane cutting industry people tell us that's because they are attracted by the wages and working and living conditions here in America.

No, Miller says. They come here every year because they are exploited and treated unfairly. Glad he cleared that up.

And Americans don't harvest cane because they won't take the jobs, say industry officials.

Wrong again, Miller says they don't harvest cane because the sugar industry is exploiting Americans by refusing to offer the jobs to unemployed residents of this country.

Ge, he makes it all seem so... simple.

So we were a bit suspicious when we heard industry officials say they preferred domestic workers because the industry wouldn't be required to furnish transportation to and from their homes, room and board while working the season and they wouldn't have to go to the expense of recruiting the laborers.

Well, George Miller straightened that out, also.

The industry doesn't hire domestic cane cutters, not because the domestic workforce doesn't seek the jobs, but because then they'd be able to organize and develop some degree of power.

That way, they'd be able to force their wages up over the federally set minimum wage to the same level the Jamaican cane cutters earn.

Yeah, it sure helps to have wise people like George Miller in influential positions where he can tell us how all these things work. And we thought we knew.

Wow! A rate reduction

What's this, a rate reduction by the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority?

That sounds like a first, to you. You can't find too many government agencies or private industries lowering their prices, but in this case, the Glades will see just that because of a restructuring of the solid waste authority.

A bond issue the authority is floating requires it to adopt a county-wide uniform rate schedule.

This will result in lower rates here in the Glades.

So this is one time when a government agency putting itself into debt will result in lower rates for a segment of the people who come under its jurisdiction.

How long it lasts is something else altogether. For now, Glades resident can enjoy the fact that bringing the entire county into the same rate schedule has resulted in lower costs to consumers here, for a change.

If this keeps up, maybe we'll even see the phone company or the electric company ask for rate reductions.

Well, we can always dream.

Commission doing the right thing

Revision delays worth while

The South Bay Commission is doing the right thing in delaying action on proposed revisions to the city building code until all the needed adjustments have been made.

Instead of adopting revisions that could have an effect on other provisions in the code without considering what those effects may be, the city should examine each revision and how it will affect the rest of the code.

This way, the commission can make any needed revisions now and avoid problems down the road.

Prettying up television news

Christine Craft's fight to keep her TV news anchorwoman's job without having her wrinkles count as an insurmountable infirmity is worth a moment's ponderation.

Before the 1960's, women newscasters were a rarity. The ladies could conduct cooking shows, emcee early afternoon girlie talkshows or be Ding Dong School teachers but summing up the day's account of blood and gore on the warfront and the homefront was man's work.

Eventually the women were allowed to be functional but the question of whether they also had to be ornamental was left unanswered — aloud, that is.

Now Walter Cronkite may be urbane, witty, and sincere but pretty, he isn't. And if Ms Craft has the uglies, there are a lot of us wish we could catch it.

AILS A DEWING

"And What Not"

I'm sure the question came up during the trial as to whether Ms Craft can read her way through six-letter words without stumbling, but I wonder if TV stations generally acknowledge that gorgeous is less important to the viewer than whether the announcer reads English like a second language, once removed.

Ms Craft's battle has also started some debate on whether TV stations are forced to "package" newscasters to keep up with the competition. Mrs. Olsen may be just right as a coffee hucker but it's no contest if she's delivering the news on one network and Zsa Zsa Gabor on another, I suppose. Personally, I'm uneasy thinking daily disasters need to be made more palatable, depending on who's spooning them out.

I believe I'll continue to take my daily dose of disaster out of the newspapers where it doesn't count if the reporter is overweight, overage, overwrought and somewhat scrummy. As for the six-letter words, I'll look them up for myself.

I guess the 60s really are over

Signs are everywhere that the 1960s are all over with.

Short hair is fashionable and Sandra is planning to get married.

Let me explain. Long hair has been with us since the Beatles came along in '64 and forced a whole lot of barbers to make a sudden career change in order to continue putting bread on the table.

Due to one thing or another, I never had long hair and it looks like I never will. I have less of the stringy stuff to comb every year.

Proof positive that the '60s are over, however, is Sandra's wedding plans.

Sandra, of course, is the flower child of the family: my sister. With her long blond hair, sapples, and guitar, she was right at home in the peace demonstrations of that other era.

JIM JONES

Boiler Plate

Along the way, she had other interests, such as the National Organization for Women (NOW) in the 1970s and picketing the Jacksonville municipal utility in the 1980s.

You might say her philosophy was "think globally, act locally."

I always loved her for her pugnacious behavior, her intelligence, and her genuine concern about various causes.

At the same time, there were plenty of things I disagreed with her about. And there was just nothing she did which surprised me. "That's just Sandra."

Now she has gone and done something which has confounded the entire family.

She is making plans to settle down into traditional domestic tranquility. She's going to tie the knot, get hitched, bite the dust; she is going to get married.

Sandra is even talking about having babies. And we are all delighted.

For me this is the sure sign that the 1960s are over.

It came from an unexpected direction. Sandra continues to live up to her billing, making even the routine seem unexpected.

Reverend Evans: "Taking it from the top"

Are you dissatisfied with the state of your religion? Do you sometimes feel that God has forgotten you and you have to handle all your problems by yourself? Maybe it is because we are not in communion with God.

The Apostle Paul wrote to the Ephesians, "Therefore do not be foolish but understand what the will of God is." This seems emphatic but what is the will of God?

First of all it is doing what is pleasing to God. Earlier Paul says, "Try to learn what is pleasing to God."

Second, it is not being outwardly pious. Jesus did not make a show of His religious actions but witnessed to His love of the world.

Third, we find out God's will by doing. As we try to obey we learn to verify what pleases Him. What we do seems to break down to three basic approaches: worship, obedience, and service.

The inspiration of our lives comes from worship of our Sovereign Lord. Worship is the response of a redeemed community made up of those who have accepted God's love.

Worship is the corporate praise of God for His greatness, His holiness and love. Today many are trying to get their religious needs filled by TV sermons or means other than being physically a part of the body of Christ in Church.

Man has communion with man on three levels and from these we may learn about the need of communion with God. First we may have fellowship through a sense of physical presence. A change comes over us because someone is in the room with us. We may feel a sense of the presence of God in all worship.

Second, we may have communion through an exchange of current thoughts. Conversation adds to mere proximity as a means of fellowship. Minds meet and they may understand one another. There is a basic assumption of the Christian faith that God has spoken and continues to speak.

Third, the deepest level of communion is between those who are one in purpose. It is communion of this profound sort which God offers Himself to us. To worship with fellow believers and to accept God's love for us is to be in communion with the living Christ. Listening to God is vital to us for strength and direction.

Out of worship we receive the motivation for obedience. God has given us the commandment to love and to witness. The first is vital if we are to grow and live as Christians. Jesus took the Old Testament injunctions and came up with "Love the Lord with all your heart, soul, and mind, and your neighbor as yourself."

Christ's life was an example of obedience to God's will. The longer He lived the closer He came to the Father.

We are to love God and try to see what God would have us do on every occasion. Christ gave us life by His obedience to the cross and we can live more fully if we obey God's commandments for us.

The commandment to witness means we more than disciples. We are to show by words and deeds what Christ's love means to us and can mean to others.

The meaning of Christ's love comes out only in proportion as we speak to others about it. The closer we come to God in worship the more we want to tell others of our joy.

Finally, the end result is service. Good works is the fruit of a deep commitment and appreciation of God's concern for us.

Service sometimes tests to the deepest part of our faith. Jesus calls us to minister to the hungry, the thirsty, the stranger, the naked, the sick, and the imprisoned.

Our faith cannot be strong without worship with others, obedience to God, and service to others.

Summer vacation will soon come to a close for area students with the opening of the 1983-84 school year.

The first school to open its doors will be Belle Glade Christian Academy at 1316 W. Canal Street. The first day of school for new and returning students was Tuesday, August 16.

According to Principal J.P. Feld, this year's class enrollment limits have been met and classes are full for the 1983-84 term. The re-enrollment deadline, according to Feld, was August 8 for the current school year. He said flag football will also be starting August 16.

Christian Day School students will start classes August 22. Orientation will be August 18 and according to Principal Gloria King, the registration for Christian Day School is ongoing.

The public schools will open August 24 with registration August 18 at all of the elementary, middle and high schools from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. except Glades Central High School.

Lake Shore Middle

School is not requiring registration for returning students.

Glades Central collegiate registration is scheduled for August 18 and 19 with 12th grade students asked to register between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m., 11th grade students from noon to 3 p.m., August 18.

Glades Central 10th grades students should register August 19 from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. and ninth grade students between noon and 3 p.m.

Glades Day School will resume classes starting August 29. Registration is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. every weekday.

Florida law requires that all children entering school for the first time have a physical examination within the previous 12 months and proof of immunization.

New students are required to bring their birth certificates and records from their previous school if they have them.

The required immunizations include polio, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis. According to Henry Janowski, director of the immunization program for the Department of Health and Human Services, Florida had the second highest number of measles cases of any state in the country this year.

Immunizations and physical exams are available through the Palm Beach County Health Department or through private physicians.

Larry's batters Carter Electric

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - After giving up one run and two hits in the bottom of the first inning, Larry's hurler Chuck Anderson shut out Carter Electric to let his team claim a 13-1 victory.

Anderson scattered three more hits through the last three innings to complete the five-hitter. Carter Electric claimed a one run lead in the bottom of the first when Kenny Cavinee, who led off with a single into left field, advanced to third on a single by Brian Carter.

Carter took second on the throw from right field and Cavinee ended up at third. Cavinee scored when Mark Orsenigo sacrificed to left.

Carter held the 1-0 lead through two innings, but Larry's used a third inning surge to capture a 3-1 lead.

Hector Valez was issued a lead off walk. With two outs, Billy Anderson knocked a Terry Wood pitch over right fielder Ricky Haulcomb's head and drove in Valez with a triple.

The next batter, Billy Sanchez, drove Anderson in with a center field single.

Nicki Walden advanced Sanchez to third with a single to center. Sanchez came home when Chuck Anderson singled to center field. Centerfielder Mark Orsenigo recovered the ball and relayed it to the infield where Walden was tagged for the third out.

Larry's added five runs to its lead in the fifth inning.

Armando Mura took a base on balls to lead off the inning. A single by Ken Schlechter and a base on balls issued to Hector Valez loaded the bases and ended the pitching performance of Wood.

Two runs scored when Derek Collins's ground ball was bobbled by shortstop Brian Carter, whose glove and arm were instrumental in a second inning double play.

Barry Johnson followed with a double into center field to drive in Valez and Collins.

Johnson took third on a fly out to right center field by Billy Anderson, then he came home when Billy Sanchez sacrificed to left center.

While the offensive power of the team was busy building a solid lead, Chuck Anderson was putting down Carter Electric batters.

He walked Ricky Haulcomb to lead off the second, but Haulcomb was doubled to end the inning. Between Haulcomb's second inning free pass and the base on balls he issued to Rick Alfonso to lead off the fifth inning, Anderson retired six straight batters.

Alfonso advanced to second when Haulcomb singled to the left side.

Billy Gressinger reached first and Alfonso went to third when Haulcomb was forced at second.

Mark Allen followed with a shallow fly out to center that Sanchez returned to first base to double up Gressinger and end the inning before Alfonso could cross the plate.

Larry's scored four more runs on four hits in the sixth inning.

Valez walked to lead off the inning, and advanced to second on a fly out to center by Derik Collins. Barry Johnson singled to center to put runners at the corners.

With two outs, Billy Sanchez singled to center to drive in drive in two runs. Sanchez came home when Nicki Walden doubled into right field.

Paul Allen tapped a ball into right field for a lead off single in the bottom of the inning, but he was forced out when Bruce Carter grounded to the shortstop.

Carter Electric was retired when Cavinee lined a ball to the left side of first base. Larry's first baseman Nicki Walden lunged for the ball and, after spearing it, picked himself up and tagged the base to catch Bruce Carter off base.

Larry's completed the scoring in the seventh. Schlechter led off with a single to right field. He advanced to third when Valez doubled into center field.

Collins drove in Schlechter with a sacrifice to left.

Anderson walked Brian Carter to lead off the Carter Electric half of the last inning.

The next pater popped to shortstop and Terry

Wood followed with a single into left center to put Carter at second.

Rick Alfonso reached base on a grounder to the pitcher that was relayed to Collins at short for the force on Wood.

That advanced Brian Carter to third base.

Ricky Haulcomb then tapped a grounder to second baseman Armando Mura who tagged the bag himself to end the game at 13-1.

In other B Division games it was Everglades Farm Equipment 14, Crosby Mobile Homes 5; Glades Ag Service 4, Seminole Supply 3; Glades Ag Service 12, Crosby Mobile Homes 8; Seminole Supply 9, F&W Farms 8 and Theo's 14, the No Names 3.

E.F.E. trounced Glade and Grove 21-0 and Carter Electric beat Glade and Grove 18-3.

Theo's beat Glades Sugar 7-2 and Glades Sugar shut out Seminole Supply 12-0.

Theo's beat Seminole Supply 12-7 in a make-up game from a rain-out and the No Names downed E.F.E. 5-1.

Larry's picked up a forfeit victory from Glade and Grove, who ended the season at 0-20, and Seminole Supply was handed a forfeit victory from Larry's.

In the A Division, Okeelanta hung on to beat Glades General 15-11 and beat the All Stars 13-6. Okeelanta also crushed Hutton Brothers 26-5.

Other A Divisions scores were Sugar Supply 10, Hutton Brothers 6; Glades General 4, Carter Chevrolet 1; Mace Sod 14, All Stars 10; Carter Chevrolet 13, Sugar Supply 7.

The end of the season tournament scheduled for this week was supposed to feature all seven A Division teams and the top six finishing teams in the B Division.

The top six teams in the B Division are Glades Sugar, Theo's, E.F.E., Larry's, Glades Ag Service and F&W Farms. Those teams were assured of a spot in the tournament. Their draw would be contingent upon their finish in the regular season standings.

Kiwanis tournament slated this weekend

BELLE GLADE - The Kiwanis Club of the Glades' softball tournament will begin this Friday evening, August 19, at Airport Park.

All proceeds from the tournament will go to benefit the fight against muscular dystrophy.

A 10-run slaughter rule will be in effect after five innings. Tom Bonavia, the chairman for the event, said the tournament is expected to feature two divisions: an open division and a restricted division.

He said he was trying to limit the number of participants in the double elimination tournament to 24 teams.

Players of the week

Potent bats earn honors

Two outfielders wielded productive bats last week to earn the players of the week honors.

In the A Division, Brian Lohmann, Carter Chevrolet's left fielder, went five for eight, scored three runs and batted in a run in two games.

Against Sugar Supply, Lohmann collected a single and a triple in four at bats. He also reached base a third time on an error. Each time he reached base, he crossed the plate in the 13-7 victory.

He knocked three singles against Glades General and reached base on a fielders choice. While he didn't cross the plate in the 4-1 defeat, he batted in the only run his team would score.

In the B Division, Tim Laster, an outfielder with Everglades Farm Equipment, got five hits in 11 at bats.

He scored the only E.F.E. run in a 5-1 defeat at the hands of the No Names, but his team didn't lose for lack of effort on Laster's part.

Laster hit three singles in four at bats against the No Names. When E.F.E. shut out Glade and Grove 21-0 last week, Laster helped knock the wheels off the cart with a single and a base on balls in two at bats. He also reached base on an error and scored two runs.

The outfielder went one-for-five against Crosby Mobile Homes when Everglades Farm picked up a 14-5 victory. Laster reached three times in the game and scored one run while knocking in three.

Miller, Clas take vows in Louisiana

Sharon Miller of Thibodaux, Louisiana, became the bride of Hector L. Clas, also of Thibodaux, Louisiana, June 11 in the Pavilion Ballroom of the Holiday Inn in Thibodaux.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller, formerly of Belle Glade, now residing in Thibodaux, La. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Demetrio Clas of Belle Glade.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from Glades Central High School in Belle Glade.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by Dennis Jean Rodrigue. Gibbena Robichoux was the pianist. Jaime Rodrigue played the guitar and sang "If" and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown with chantilly lace over tissue taffeta lining. The bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline with seed pearls and glitter.

Her short puffed sleeves were accented with a ribbon trim and the skirt was four tiers in chantilly lace and flowed to form a cathedral train.

The bride's veil was a two tiered fingertip design with a wreath style headpiece. She carried a cascade of white carnations, light blue gypsophylla and blue cosmos.

The matron of honor was Lynn Scroggin, sister of the bride. She wore a light blue polyester dress with a ruffled and scooped neckline. She carried a nosegay of white carnations, gypsophylla and blue cosmos. Her headpiece featured mini carnations with blue ribbons.

The best man was Willie Clas, brother of the groom.

The flower girl was Nichole Scroggin, niece of the bride. She wore a blue and white flowered dress with a draped neckline. She carried a small basket of white carnations and gypsophylla. Her headpiece was also of mini-carnation wreaths with blue ribbon.

The altar was banked with blue candles and white carnations with an arch decorated with plumora fern, white carnations and blue ribbons.

A reception was given for the couple following the ceremony in the Pavilion Ballroom of the Holiday Inn.

Host for the reception were Cindy M. Bennett, sister of the bride and Rosa Clas, sister of the groom.

An arrangement of

wore a blue street length dress with matching jacket. The bride wore a pink jumpsuit with white trim and white shoes for her going away outfit.

Seaman completes training

Navy Seaman Recruit Sharon D. Barton, daughter of William Fulmore of 417 Southwest St., Pahokee, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill,

Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.
